

Subject Area Grid 2025

This 10-page grid showcases 130 subject areas in which 143 member presses may have a current publishing interest. The subjects are broad, and may represent a range of subdisciplines, regional focuses, and new scholarly approaches. Be sure to visit press websites for more specific information about their publishing programs and submissions requirements. The Subject Area Grid is also available as a sortable Excel file.

Key

- indicates that a press is actively acquiring new work in this subject area
- indicates available backlist in a subject but press is not currently publishing new work
